DESCRIPTION:

This cowhide, split leather palm is derived from the shoulder section of the hide. The standard/regular and economy cuts are selected from the middle and lower portions of the hide, making them thinner than other grades, but still durable and more economical. Cowhide is also comfortable and abrasion resistant. This glove features a striped canvas back, patch palm, 2.5-inch starched safety cuff, and a gunn pattern – the most common pattern used for work gloves.
